Emulsion Polymerisation and Latex Applications

This type of filtration is typically selected for feeds containing a high proportion of small particle size solids (where the permeate is of most value) because solid material can quickly block (blind) the filter surface with dead-end filtration. Industrial examples of this include the extraction of soluble antibiotics from fermentation liquors.. The main driving force of cross-flow filtration ...

A queste combinazioni di lettere si può aggiungere: A per indicare un allarme, preceduta da H (High), HH (Very High), L (Low) o LL (Very Low) a seconda che l'allarme intervenga se i valori misurati sono maggiori o minori dei valori limiti (ad esempio HPA: allarme per pressione sopra il valore limite). I valori HH e LL sono usati solo in presenza di un valore H o L per distinguere due soglie di ...

Human-driven environmental changes affect behavior, morphology, life history, and population dynamics of wild species. Artificial food sources in anthropogenic environments benefit some species and may lead to faster somatic growth and larger body size, which affects survival and reproduction, thus contributing to a species' success in modified environments.

Calore specifico negativo. Il concetto di "calore specifico negativo", noto implicitamente in astrofisica fin dai lavori di Subrahmanyan Chandrasekhar degli anni '30, compare in maniera marginale nel classico testo di Fisica Statistica di L.D. Landau ed E.M. Lifshitz, fu diffuso nella comunità dei fisici da Walter Thirring nel 1970. Recentemente ci si è accorti che un qualsiasi sistema con ...

Coeficiente de transferência térmica – Wikipédia

O coeficiente de transferência térmica ou coeficiente de transferência de calor, em termodinâmica e em engenharia mecânica e química, é usado no cálculo da transferência de calor, tipicamente por convecção ou mudança de fase entre um fluido e um sólido: $\dot{Q} = h A \Delta T$ onde \dot{Q} = entrada de calor ou perda de calor, J h = coeficiente de transferência térmica, W/(m² K)

1. Introduction. Tapered fluidized beds are used in many industrial processes, including granulation, drying and coating .They are similar in form to spouted beds in which particles are carried upwards in a strong central jet, before slowly returning to the bottom along the margins.

Generalmente se considera ultra filtración la que se obtiene utilizando membranas cuyos poros permiten separar moléculas con un peso molecular superior a los 10³ Dalton/gmol.Con estas membranas se logra separar y concentrar proteínas, desinfectar el agua reteniendo bacterias y virus, etc.
